Carly is an associate in the New York City office with a focus on matrimonial and family law. She sought significant matrimonial and family law experience as a law student at Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law, working for Sanctuary for Families and the Divorce Mediation Clinic. Additionally, she interned for a matrimonial judge within the New York County Supreme Court and worked in the matrimonial law department of a midsized firm in Manhattan, giving her exposure to a wide array of complex matrimonial and family law issues.
