PROFILE

Lindsay represents investors and sovereign states in complex dispute resolution, particularly in international arbitration.

She has handled arbitrations under ICSID, UNCITRAL, LCIA, and ICC rules, and regularly provides strategic guidance on potential claims. She has worked on high-value commercial and investment treaty disputes across sectors, including mining, pharmaceuticals, and infrastructure disputes. Her experience also spans the globe, with multijurisdictional matters involving Central Asia, Africa, and beyond.

Lindsay has been recognized as an “invaluable” and “extremely hard-working and dedicated” lawyer in Legal 500, noting that Lindsay “goes above and beyond to drive cases forward, and to present the very best submissions to the tribunal.”
