Tatiana's practice focuses on complex commercial litigation, multijurisdictional disputes, cross-border investigations, novel or complex areas of law, and sensitive subject matters. She has first-hand trial, motion practice, and appellate experience in state and federal courts, administrative tribunals, and arbitral chambers.

Amongst her many pre-law-school experiences, Tatiana worked in the film industry, including international productions and distribution. She understands the challenges that players in the industry face and weaves her experience into her legal practice.

During law school, Tatiana led Privacy Law, a group for students across the globe interested in data privacy, security, and innovations. She also spent a semester at the Samuelson Law & Technology Clinic, where she researched a wide range of topics related to technology, surveillance, and surveillance-related privileges.

Tatiana is a Certified Information Privacy Professional (CIPP/US), a Certified Information Privacy Manager (CIPM), and a Certified Information Privacy Professional, Europe (CIPP/E).
