PROFILE

Phil has extensive experience in all aspects of complex litigation. He specializes in financial, commercial, private equity, partnership, antitrust, contract, fraud employment, and appellate cases, working strategically to position his clients to win. He has led multiple trials, arbitrations, and appeals before U.S. District Courts, U.S. Courts of Appeal, U.S. Bankruptcy Courts, state trial courts, state appellate courts, and international and domestic tribunals.

Phil has represented numerous high-profile clients including those involved in investment banking, private equity management, airline transportation, credit card network services, hedge fund management, electric generation and distribution, technology, agricultural and genetic engineering, real estate development and investing, resort and gaming management and ownership, and cable television services as well as ultra-high and high-net-worth individuals.

These representations have spanned a wide array of matters including complex antitrust matters, high-profile securities fraud matters, partnership disputes, breach of contract claims, a variety of aspects of energy litigation including environmental litigation, fraudulent conveyance and other bankruptcy adversary proceedings, shareholder derivative suits, securities and common law fraud claims, RICO suits, employment actions, and release disputes.

Before joining Boies Schiller Flexner in 1998, Phil was a litigation associate at Cravath, Swaine & Moore, where he worked directly for David Boies for most of his time at Cravath.
